It is with shattered hearts that we, the faculty of women's and gender studies and LGBTQ+ studies, reach out to our campus community. We stand with those who mourn the loss of Black and brown lives to the pandemic and to racial terrorism, and we join those who resist and dream of a better world.

We support all our students and colleagues, and especially those whose lives and communities are most deeply rocked by this violence.

Do not hesitate to call on us. We are with you.
